DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
- (e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filled in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filled in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 203, 210, 211, 220, 223 and 231 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Slatkine U.S. Patent No. 7,184,614.

Slatkine discloses apparatus and method of use for ablating skin tissue, the apparatus comprising: a laser system for generating plurality of ablative laser pulses, a scanning assembly for dynamically diverting the laser beams, within a duration of a pulse of the plurality of pulses, so as to transfer a predetermined amount of energy to each one of a plurality of locations of the material (see Figs. 3c and 3e).

With respect to claims 210 and 231, Slatkine further teaches the use of skin cooling means (i.e., liquid cooler or thermoelectric cool) adapted to reduce increase of temperature at the target skin.

Claims 203-209 and 211-232 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lai U.S. Patent No. 6,706,036.

Lai discloses apparatus and method of use for ablating skin tissue, the apparatus comprising: a laser system for generating plurality of ablative laser pulses, a scanning assembly for dynamically diverting the laser beams, within a duration of a pulse of the plurality of pulses, so as to transfer a predetermined amount of energy to each one of a plurality of locations of the material (see Figs. 1, 7A, 7B, 11, 11A and 12A-12B).

With respect to claim 231, Lai further teaches the use of cooling means adapted to cool the laser system.
